What readers will find

The Wrong Nail Hole. December 1926. A moved Route 66 shield, a dead sign inspector, and a town willing to kill for traffic.

The Blue Whale Ledger. A visitor ledger, a missing photographer, and a roadside landmark that keeps more than memories in its blue walls.

The Last Landing at the Painted Desert Trading Post. In 1953, a fuel-starved airplane lands beside Route 66 while a camera captures a survey stake that should not exist.

Ordering and fulfillment

The starter offer is designed for a small first order: four copies of each title or any other 12-copy mix that fits the shop.

1. Choose the mix: Select 12 or more paperbacks across the three currently available titles.
2. Request an invoice: Email the title quantities, shop name, contact name, and shipping ZIP code.
3. Review the total: The invoice lists the $8.50 unit price plus calculated shipping and applicable tax.
4. Fulfillment begins after payment: Availability and delivery timing are confirmed before the invoice is finalized.

Working terms

- Minimum opening order: 12 mixed paperbacks.
- Wholesale unit price: $8.50; suggested retail price: $16.99.
- Shipping and applicable tax are calculated separately.
- Payment is due before fulfillment; private instructions appear on the invoice.
- Returns and consignment require a separate written agreement.
- Signed copies and author-event quantities are available by request.

Retailer fit

The series is written for Route 66 travelers, historical-mystery readers, preservation supporters, and roadside-Americana collectors. The crimes and principal characters are fictional; real landmarks and documented history provide the setting and atmosphere.

PUBLIC-EDITION BOUNDARY This catalog offers only the three verified live paperbacks. Kindle editions are sold through Amazon. Drafts, in-review formats, hardcovers, and development manuscripts are excluded.
